

Request for an Extension of Program

US federal Immigration regulations require that you finish your program of study by the completion date on your SEVIS I-20. If you will not graduate by that date, you must come into the International Student Service Center and apply for a program extension at least 30 days prior to the expiration date of your SEVIS I-20.

There is no fee to apply for a program extension, and no "waiting period" to hear from the USCIS once the necessary paperwork is submitted. The International Student Service Center will approve all program extension requests allowable by federal regulations, and notify SEVIS of your new completion date.

In order to obtain a program extension, you must show that you have continually maintained status and that the extension is needed for compelling academic or medical reasons such as:

- a change of major or research topic
- unexpected research problems
- documented illness (must provide a doctor's letter)

NOTE: Delays in completing your program caused by academic probation or suspension are NOT acceptable reasons for program extension approval.

The following items are needed to process a program extension application:

- Request for an Extension of Program Form (attached)
- Completed Certificate & Declaration of Finance Form (attached)
- Proof of financial support (you must provide documentation showing the financial support necessary for completing the remainder of your program)

Once your program extension application is complete, the International Student Service Center will prepare a SEVIS I-20 indicating your new program end date (Box #3), thereby notifying the USCIS of the change.

Be sure to keep this new SEVIS I-20 and all previous SEVIS I-20 forms you have been issued. They must be submitted on request to an immigration officer when applying for changes to your immigration status, or to the International Student Service Center when applying for any benefits for which F-1 students are eligible.

NOTE: If your completion of studies date has expired or you do not meet the eligibility requirements to apply for a program extension, it will be necessary to file for reinstatement to F-1 status, for which the USCIS will charge a $370.00 fee. In addition, failure to apply for an extension of stay in a timely manner is a violation of F-1 regulations, which under recent changes to immigration laws, can carry heavy penalties.
